Section C: Response to literature

Answer EITHER question 5 OR question 6 for this section.

Question 5

Read the poem on page 333 of Oxford Successful English Grade 7 FAL and answer the following questions.

5.1. Does the poem use free verse or rhyme? Give an example from the poem to support your answer. (2)

5.2. The writer makes use of a number of different figures of speech throughout the poem. Identify and write down examples of the following figures of speech from the poem:

5.2.1. simile

5.2.2. a metaphor

5.2.3. alliteration (3)

5.3. The writer says that he thinks the baby resembles (looks like) a prune. Is this a positive or negative image? Do you think that this image is effective or not? Give a reason for your answer. (2)

- 5.4. By comparing the baby to a treasure, what does the poet tell us about his parents' feelings and attitude towards the baby? (1)
- 5.5. Is the poet describing the baby's screams at night literally or figuratively? Give a reason for your answer. (2)
- 5.6. Comment on the tone of the poem by choosing the two best adjectives from those listed below and using them in a sentence to describe the tone:
jealous, friendly, thankful, disgusted, supportive, irritated. (3)
- 5.7. What does the word "scarcely" mean in stanza 1? (1)
- 5.8. What does the use of the word "exclaim" show in stanza 3? (1)
- 5.9. Why do you think the poet says, "I wish she'd stop being a baby and start being older than me"? (2)
- 5.10. What message is the poet trying to give you about how he feels towards the new baby? Use a quote from the poem if necessary. (2)
- 5.11. Write down another title that could be used for this poem. (1)
- [20 ÷ 2 = 10]

Question 6

Read the folktale on pages 334–335 of Oxford Successful English Grade 7 FAL and answer the following questions.

- 6.1. Why was the farmer's brother famous? (2)
- 6.2. Quote the sentence from the folktale that tells us that the farmer's brother was a generous man. (1)
- 6.3. Do you think this story was set in long ago times or recently? Give a reason for your answer using an example from the story as well as commenting on the language used in the story. (2)
- 6.4. Summarise, in your own words, why the farmer didn't plant the tree in the first three places mentioned. (3)

- 6.5. The farmer decided to plant the tree behind his barn for a specific reason. What was his reason and what does this tell us about him as a person? (2)
- 6.6. How does his decision affect the plot (or storyline) of the folktale? (1)
- 6.7. Describe the two different types of conflict or struggle that happen in the story. (Hint: there is one conflict between characters and another conflict between an individual and nature.) (2)
- 6.8. What kind of temper did the farmer have? Quote from the story to support your answer. (2)
- 6.9. What do you think the moral or message of this folktale is? (1)
- 6.10. Compare the personalities of the farmer and his brother the gardener. Quote from the story if you want to. (3)
- 6.11. Do you think this is a good title for the folktale? Why or why not? (1)

Paper 3: Written

[Total: 30 marks]

Section A: Extended writing (Essay)Instructions to learners:

- There are THREE questions in this section.
- Choose and answer only ONE of the questions.
- Number the question exactly as it appears on the question paper.
- Your essay should be 130 to 180 words long (3–5 paragraphs).
- Your essay must have a title. Supply your own if none has been given.

Question 1: Descriptive essay

What's right with the world/country?

People are quick to point out the problems with our world/country and focus on the negative/bad aspects of daily life. BUT if you stop and think about it, there is so much more that is right/good about where we live.

Write a descriptive essay about what's right with the world/country. Think about some of the beautiful, good and positive things about where we live.

Question 2: Narrative essay

"I was sitting at my desk, working on the Maths problems we had been given.

All the thinking was making my head hurt, when suddenly ..."

Write an exciting story about what happens next to the learners in the class.

Start your story with the words above. Give your story a good title.

Question 3: Narrative/Descriptive essay

There must have been times when you have felt that sometimes life just isn't fair. Write a story about a time when you felt that you were being treated unfairly. Describe the event that made you feel like this and how it ended or what you learnt from it.

Total Section A: 20

Section B: Transactional texts

Note: Your teacher will let you know whether to answer Section B or C.

Begin this section on a NEW page.

Instructions to learners:

- In this section there are THREE questions.
- Choose and answer ONE question.
- Number the question exactly as it appears on the question paper.
- Your answer should be 110 to 120 words long.
- If you choose the letter, the address(es), salutation (or greeting) and ending must NOT be included in the required number of words.

Question 4: Dialogue

Your mom and your best friend's mom have both recently had babies. A new baby normally means big changes in a family as well as different feelings about the baby. Write a dialogue between Jasmine (your friend) and yourself about what it is like having a new baby in the family and how things have changed. Begin your dialogue as follows:

You: Hey Jas, how things going with your new baby?

Jas: Let's just say that since my mom brought Nelson home I am not getting much sleep!

Question 5: Informal letter

There is an alien living in outer space and he is curious about earth. He has written to you asking for information about some of the pets people keep on earth. They don't have pets on his planet and he finds it hard to understand what they are and what they do.

Write a letter to the alien explaining what pets are and why humans keep them. Include a few examples of some of the pets people keep.

Question 6: Review

Write a review about a movie you have seen OR a book that you have read. Remember to include the following in your review: 1) any necessary information (such as the title and type of movie/book); 2) a brief outline of the plot and characters; 3) your personal opinions and thoughts.

Total Section B: 10

Section C: Shorter transactional texts

Begin this section on a NEW page. Instructions to learners:

- There are THREE questions in this section. Choose and answer ONE.
- Number the question exactly as it appears on the question paper.
- Your answer should be 70 to 80 words long.

Question 7: Diary

It is your birthday in a week's time. Write a diary entry about what would make your day special. Think about how you'd like to spend your day, who you'd like to spend it with and if there is anything special you want.

Question 8: Instructions

You have decided to have a party to celebrate your birthday. Give a logical set of instructions, outlining how to write an invitation and the important information it should include. Your instructions should be numbered.

Question 9: Directions

You are having a party for your birthday. Write a set of directions that will help guests reach your house. Include: landmarks, such as shops and traffic signs; direction words; distance between two points where necessary.

How to develop assessment tools: rubrics and checklists

Rubrics

A rubric is a tool teachers use to assess a learner's performance on a specific task. It is presented in the form of a grid that clearly outlines the criteria used for assessment as well as different levels of performance per criterion.

Benefits of using a rubric

- A rubric helps learners to understand objectives. Developing rubrics with your learners will help them to understand the purpose and content and help them to prepare for the assessment.
- A rubric has a clear and standardised approach to assessment, which ensures that learners are assessed consistently and fairly.
- A rubric allows teachers to provide specific feedback to learners, highlighting areas of strength and areas for improvement.
- A rubric helps learners get a clear idea on how to improve their performance after assessment.
- A rubric allows learners to self-improve. Encourage learners to use the rubric before they hand in their work.
- A rubric is easy to use and can be easily adapted to meet changing needs.

Steps to creating a rubric

Step 1: Clearly define the purpose of the assessment. Use the assessment guidelines in the curriculum documents to determine what task/assignment the learners are required to complete.

Step 2: Define the criteria.

Use the objectives in the curriculum documents to consider what skills, knowledge or behaviours the assessment will evaluate. Make sure that:

- criteria can be observed and measured
- criteria are important to the task at hand
- each criteria assesses a single aspect of the task.

Each criteria contains levels of performance. When creating these, consider:

- what will constitute outstanding achievement
- how will you define moderate or adequate achievement
- how would you define work that falls below expectations.

Ask yourself: Are there key criteria points that should carry a greater weight than others?

Step 3: Design a rating scale that clearly defines the levels of performance.

Check your mark allocation to ensure that your rubric falls in line with curriculum expectations.

Make sure you use language and terminology that the learner is familiar with so that they have a clear understanding of what is required of them.

Provide a scale of achievement that can assess the learners' overall competency in completing the task. For example, you can provide an overall mark according to the seven-point rating code or scale of achievement:

Rating code	Description of Competence	Percentage
7	Outstanding achievement	80–100
6	Meritorious achievement	70–79
5	Substantial achievement	60–69
4	Adequate achievement	50–59
3	Moderate achievement	40–49
2	Elementary achievement	30–39
1	Not achieved	0–29

Step 4: Write descriptions of expected performance at each level of the rating scale.

Describe observable and measurable behaviour and use parallel language across the scale. Indicate the degree to which the standards are met. Ensure that learners understand the expectations before and during the assessment.

Step 5: Create the rubric.

For ease of use, keep it to one page. Ask your colleagues for feedback and consider testing it before you use it for assessment. After you use the rubric, consider how effective it was and make any necessary revisions.

Exemplar:

Writes paragraphs – descriptions of people using a frame

Checklists

A checklist is a simple assessment tool that provides a list of items or criteria to be checked off. It differs from a rubric in that it provides learners with the criteria of the requirements of an assignment rather than a means of assessing acquired knowledge. A checklist can be used solely by you as a teacher, or you can give your learners a checklist that they can refer to in order to make sure that they have included the required components for a task.

Checklists usually consist of a number of statements that refer to specific criteria and where the answer will be, for example, “Yes” or “No”, or “Achieved”, “Not yet” or “Almost”.

Benefits of using a checklist

- A checklist ensures that all relevant criteria are assessed and evaluated.
- A checklist helps to ensure consistent assessment of specified criteria.
- A checklist can be used by learners as a self-assessment tool.
- A checklist identifies learning needs in a clear and simple way.
- A checklist is easy to create and use and provides an uncomplicated guide for assessment.

Steps to create a checklist

Step 1: Define the purpose and what you want to assess.

This could be specific skills or a general assessment.

Step 2: Identify the criteria.

What specific elements or content will be assessed?

Step 3: Create your checklist.

Check that it contains everything you want to assess.

Exemplar:

Reading aloud:

Reading should assess learners’ understanding of what they read, not just their ability to recognise or decode words.

Reads aloud – Prepared Text
	Yes 2	Partially 1	No 0
Demonstrates preparation and practice
Reads with fluency (has the ability to read easily and accurately)

Intervention strategies

Baseline assessment and intervention strategies

Some learners may experience academic backlogs for various reasons, including the impact on learning due to the COVID-19 pandemic, underlying learning barriers or special education needs such as visual or hearing impairments or intellectual barriers. Baseline assessment will help you identify learners that may be experiencing these barriers.

Analysing baseline assessment questions will provide insight into learners' current knowledge and skills regarding certain topics, as well as their preparedness for the work ahead. The results of baseline assessments can help to identify the areas where learners require support and/or intervention.

Learners may require support and/or intervention for the following reasons:

- barriers to learning
- class size
- reading comprehension (the ability to understand what they have read).

Barriers to learning

Some learners may face barriers to learning. It is important to accommodate learners with barriers to learning to ensure that our classrooms remain inclusive. These learners may require and should be granted more time for completing tasks, acquiring thinking skills (own strategies), and completing assessment activities. Adapt the number of activities to be completed without interfering with learners gaining the required skills. Learners experiencing barriers to learning can also be paired with others who may be able to support them.

Class size

- Peer tutoring can be an effective intervention method when class size is problematic.
- Quieter learners often struggle in a large class, as they tend not to ask questions. Organising learners into groups or pairs can help to create a more inclusive and enabling learning environment.
- Ensure that groups are made up of learners with varying ability, so that learners who may be struggling are supported by their peers.
- Peer assessment can also be used successfully during informal assessment and allows you to gauge learners' understanding in a less intimidating manner than a formal test or assignment.
- The following strategies can be used in a large class:
 - Thumbs up/thumbs down: Check understanding by a show of thumbs. Thumbs up indicate that learners have understood; thumbs down show that they have not understood; thumbs sideways could show that they are not sure.

- Response boards: These are small chalkboards or whiteboards where learners record their response to a question. When you say “Show your answers” they all hold up the board. This way you can quickly see who is struggling.
- Show fingers 1-2-3: Ask learners to show fingers to indicate if they understand activity instructions before working in a group. 1 = I do not understand; 2 = I sort of understand but I need some help; 3 = I understand completely.

Reading comprehension

- Support learners by giving them pre-reading questions and post-reading strategies to organise what they have learnt. Pre-reading questions could include asking the learners what they already know about the topic. Teach learners to summarise the content into bullet points and make use of mind maps. This requires the learners to rewrite the content in their own words.
- Write difficult terminology on the board and give simple explanations.
- Diagrams can be very useful to explain concepts in a way that learners can visualise the situation.

General teaching intervention strategies

Teach from the learner’s point of view

- Put yourself in the learner’s position: If you were the learner, what would you like the teacher to explain or show you that you could not learn previously?
- Remember that learners might still have emotional issues related to the COVID-19 pandemic, which you may need to address.

Reteach topic(s) for which learners achieved low scores (closing the gap)

- Focus on concepts, and not only on factual content. Then use illustrations to support learners’ understanding and avoid superficial rote learning. The more “real-life” examples used, the easier it will be for the learners to conceptualise the topic.
- Make the structure of your lessons and teaching materials clear: State specific, achievable goals, provide graphic organisers to link parts of the lesson and give frequent summaries of sections of the lesson. A graphic organiser can be any visual representation of content that gives an immediate overview of main points.
- Refer frequently to your progress in terms of the lesson structure. This will help learners to develop an overall and cohesive (holistic) grasp of the content.
- Skills, knowledge and concepts run like threads through the previous grades. Explain these threads to learners, as you begin teaching a new topic or module – it will help learners to link the new content to what they already know.

Metacognition

Metacognition is the ability to understand our own thought processes. It is essential that metacognition takes place during lessons.

Learners retain information best when they can visualise situations. Visual aids, such as flash cards and mind maps, and practical work can aid with developing metacognition, or getting learners to think about and understand their own thought processes. After completing practical tasks, give learners sentence starters to complete. For example: I learnt ...; I wonder ...; I still want to know ...; I still don't understand ...; I still have a question about

Retaining information

- Flash cards and mind maps can be useful tools to help learners memorise facts.
- Encourage learners to break down content into more manageable sections. They can then create a mind map for each sub-topic. Tables can also help learners summarise content into more manageable sections.
- A mnemonic is a word, sentence or poem that helps you remember something. Mnemonics help learners to memorise content. Use the first letter of each word to create a sentence that the learners can memorise easily. For example, a mnemonic such as “Eat An Apple As A Nice Snack” can help learners to memorise the names of the continents: Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia, Antarctica, North America, South America.

Develop presentation skills

Many learners find it challenging to speak in front of the class, but this improves with practice. Encourage learners to answer questions in class and take part in class discussions by using one or more of the following strategies:

- Use the think-pair-share method: Posing a question and giving learners a short time to think about it, followed by discussion with a partner and then sharing with others. Learners who are shy will find it easier to share ideas with a partner first.
- Tell-check-say: A learner tells the answer to a friend, together they check if the answer is correct by referring to the textbook, and then the first learner says the answer out loud to the class or writes it down.
- Target basic and then more advanced questions to specific learners based on their readiness to answer them: A good strategy is to first ask the question to the whole class. This ensures that everyone thinks about it. Then, ask a specific learner the question.
- Keywords on cards: These can be used to help the learner remember their presentation. Eye contact is essential, so emphasise to learners that they should not read their presentation.

Interventions for learners with special education needs

- Special educational needs may include visual or hearing impairments or intellectual barriers. Do not form an opinion about a learner too early. This could lead to an inaccurate assessment of a learner's barrier, or an inaccurate assessment of the existence of a barrier (when in fact there may not be one). If the barrier is obvious after the first term and becomes a serious obstacle to the learner, seek professional help from the district office.
- Immediate steps could include: observing the learner inside and outside of the classroom, contacting the learner's previous teachers and consulting learner progress reports to understand their needs.
